A Word from Bishop Medley

'Amoris Laetitia – the Joy of Love'

Anything worth doing is worth doing poorly.

Think about it. If someone is to pick up paints and explore their creativity, they need not create a work comparable to Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel to make it worthwhile. If one enjoys singing, they do not have to surpass Frank Sinatra or Elvis Presley in records sold for it to be valuable and pleasing. If one can bounce a basketball, they need not break Michael Jordan's records to have a good time.

This might then be my summation of Pope Francis' Apostolic Exhortation on the family, Amoris Laetitia, the Joy of Love. For marriage and family to be worthwhile, it can even be done poorly. Now "poorly" is the problematic word. Perhaps I should "not perfectly." If marriage is worth doing, it is worth doing even when it is not perfect.

Pope Francis' document on marriage and family comes to us as a reassurance that much good comes to men and women and children and society even when every marriage and every family is not the stuff of a manual on perfection. This makes perfect sense: most of us are husbands, wives, mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers and few of us have ever been accused of perfection. Marriage and family life is messy and very often marked by imperfection.

And let's get to the heart of it: marriage and family is often marked by sin. People in the most intimate relationships of life and loving hurt one another, they disappoint one another, they wound one another. Pope Francis gets it! He speaks for the Church and more importantly for Jesus Christ. He promises us that there is grace in married life that can overcome our shortcomings.

Maybe the Church has sometimes set expectations that make the ordinary unacceptable. We are all aware of the tendency in our culture to cut and run when everything does not suit us. In relationship to marriage this has meant failed marriages and broken families when maybe all that was required was a little minor surgery, a swallowing of pride, or a dose of mercy and forgiveness.

Amoris Laetitia will be the source of Church teaching on marriage for a long time to come. This is altogether appropriate for Pope Francis draws his teaching from the Gospels of Jesus Christ. He has summed up masterfully the voices of the bishops and experts who participated in the two Synods on the family held in 2014 and 2015. In these encounters the lives of real, ordinary and imperfect people were considered. Pope Francis now takes from these discussions a call to meet people where they are and to respect their consciences. He reminds pastors that the Church is to assist people in forming consciences, not to replace them.

The Catholic Church has always invested much in the sacrament of matrimony and the family life that rightly flows from this sacrament. Pope Francis acknowledges, however, that at times people who have fallen short of this ideal don't feel welcomed, understood or supported by the Church. In a noble effort to defend marriage, maybe we have been too quick to judge others' failures.

He decries those who would use the moral law as if they were "stones to throw at people's lives." Surely this is an apt image as we recollect the Gospel story of the woman caught in adultery, where Jesus invited those without sin to cast the first stone.

Pope Francis, while not diluting at all the natural and holy ideal of marriage, does insist that the Church respond with compassion, sensitivity and mercy to any whose lives have not conformed to those ideals. Pastors and people must see that all are welcome, that there is room at the Lord's Table for all who want to be there. He admits that even our language has betrayed us at times: "It can no longer be said that all those living in any 'irregular union' are living in a state of mortal sin." In other words, we can find ways to respond to people without so easily Death is a difficult thing to fathom, especially for youth, says Fr. Ed Bradley, chaplain at Owensboro Catholic High School.

“Young people can find it hard to talk about,” said Fr. Bradley.

But instead of shying away from the topic, a number of students at OCHS are actively involved in promoting dignified burials for those on the margins of society.

Sometimes, local priests or the county coroner will call Fr. Bradley about the recent death of a poor or homeless person in the community.

While local funeral homes have a rotating system that provides funeral or memorial services for these individuals, there is still the problem of few people to attend and serve as pallbearers.

Year of Mercy

JUBILEE YEAR 2015-2016

Living the Year of Mercy

The Jubilee Year of Mercy was established by Pope Francis to last from Dec. 8, 2015 to Nov. 20, 2016. The Western Kentucky

Catholic is celebrating this holy year by featuring a series highlighting individuals who live the works of mercy around the Diocese of Owensboro.

This month’s article introduces us to a couple members of the St. Joseph of Arimathea Society at Owensboro Catholic High School – a student club that exemplifies the work of “Burying the Dead.”

Rebirth from ashes: Todd County parishes become one

BY ELIZABETH WONG BARNSTEAD, THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

On Holy Thursday, March 24, 2016, Bishop William F. Medley and diocesan chancellor Kevin Kauffeld signed a decree establishing St. Francis of Assisi Parish in Todd County, Kentucky.

This parish was formed through the merging of St. Susan Parish in Elkton and SS. Mary and James Parish in Guthrie – and the parishes did not make this decision lightly.

Deacon Heriberto Rodriguez, parish life coordinator for both parish communities, said that in recent years both the Hispanic and Anglo presence at the churches had been growing significantly.

In Guthrie, for instance, there were about 15-20 Hispanic and 40-45 Anglo parishioners when Deacon Heriberto arrived in 2010. Today, there are 95-105 Hispanic members and 65-75 Anglo members.

Likewise, Elkton once had 65-75 Hispanic parishioners, which have gone up recently to about 85-95. Anglo parishioners have also grown from roughly 30-35 to 45-50.

The number of parishioners was starting to outgrow the two little churches, which were both located in what is considered Catholic mission territory, for the region's population is less than 2 percent Catholic.

Due to the parishes' close proximity they shared a priest – Fr. Frank Ruff, GHM, a Glenmary priest who provided Mass and other sacramental services.

Mary and James Church in Guthrie on Feb. 10, 2015. Right: The interior of St. Susan Church in Elkton, where the growing parishioner attendance was becoming too great for the church's modest size. Photos by Tina Kasey, Office of Communications.

"I had opened up a conversation at SS. Mary and James about needing a bigger place to better serve the growing community," said Deacon Rodriguez. "It was moving forward but very slowly."

Then, back in 2015, tragedy struck.

The fire

It's now been more than a year ago, but Deacon Rodriguez still remembers receiving the Feb. 10, 2015 phone call.

An electrical fire had started at SS. Mary and James' fellowship hall behind the church, and had enveloped both buildings.

Deacon Rodriguez jumped into his car and raced to the scene. He saw the local community assembled and working to remove precious items from the buildings before it was too dangerous to enter.

"People of the community – Baptists, Mennonites, Catholics – carried out the tabernacle, crucifix, statues, other items,” said Deacon Rodriguez.

Insurance later determined both buildings a total loss.

The memory is still difficult for the parish community, especially for those who’ve been parishioners their entire lives.

Barbara Fletcher Arms grew up in Tennessee, but with the Guthrie church being nearly on the Tennessee-Kentucky state line, it wasn’t far for her family.

Arms’ mother, Betty Fletcher, was a founding member of the little church at 313 3rd Street.

“My mother had donated the holder for the sacred oils,” said Arms, explaining that the oils holder was one of the items rescued from the fire.

Mary Covington King, another parishioner, explained that her parents were also “two of the original people who started the church” and had been involved in the parish’s Legion of Mary as well.

A generous gift

With the Elkton and Guthrie parishes already working together so much, the parishioners began to explore a new option: merging into one new parish. The idea flourished, and St. Francis of Assisi Parish was born.

“We are connected in many ways spiritually,” said Deacon Rodriguez, adding that once the decision was made, they began looking for property to build a new church situated between Guthrie and Elkton.

There were some delays initially since not a lot of land was for sale in the Todd County region, due to most properties having expansive fields for

One family: Local Christians opened doors to Catholics after fire

BY ELIZABETH WONG BARNSTEAD, THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

The Christian community in Todd County is quite aware that “we’re all one family, brothers and sisters,” said Fr. Frank Ruff, GHM, a Glenmary Home Missioners priest who has served the area’s Catholics for the past 15 years.

“Pastors here in the in the past committed to community activities with other churches,” said Fr. Ruff.

With a less than 2 percent Catholic population in Todd County and the surrounding area – which includes Catholics who cross over from Tennessee to attend a Todd County parish – a great camaraderie exists.

In a small community like this, said Fr. Ruff, it just came naturally.

But on Feb. 10, 2015 a fire completely destroyed SS. Mary and James Parish in Guthrie. The Guthrie-area Catholics were virtually homeless.

“When the fire happened, five Protestant communities offered their churches,” said Fr. Ruff, adding that two civic organizations, including a museum, offered facilities as well.

The Catholic parishioners were grateful, and originally moved into the museum due to other churches’ schedules conflicting with the parish’s.

But when the museum needed to do renovations, the Catholics were once again without a place to celebrate Mass.

Tiny Town Baptist Church had offered their facilities the first time, and their offer remained.

“Of all the church timeframes that worked the best,” said Fr. Ruff.

Before long the Catholic community in Guthrie was attending Mass inside the Baptist church – complete with tabernacle, which Tiny Town Baptist graciously let them keep inside with an electric candle.

The Rev. Buck Tidwell, pastor of Tiny Town Baptist, said he had enjoyed working with both Fr. Ruff and Deacon Heriberto Rodriguez, the parish life coordinator, for previous inter-church community projects.

The three church ministers work with other pastors in Todd County to provide many community services, such as an annual ecumenical Thanksgiving service, and a Christmas basket collection for the poor.

And since Guthrie is such a small town, “everybody knows everybody,” he said. “We care about our brothers and sisters.”

“We saw a need and wanted to help as best we could,” he said. “One way was to offer a place to worship.”

The warm relationship between the local Catholics and Baptists has blossomed further since Tiny Town began housing the Catholic community.

“We’ve become good friends and brothers in Christ,” said Rev. Tidwell, adding that the Catholic community has now been using their facilities for about a year.

He emphasized that there is no sense of competition between the churches: “Our job is to bring people to Christ.”

“They pray for us, and we pray for them,” he said. “We’re doing what Christ did, and that’s to love each other.”

Frank Lesko, the Glenmary Home Missioners’ director of Catholic-Evangelical relations, said this relationship is “particularly inspiring.”

“Gosh, if only everywhere was like this!” said Lesko, who works to build positive relationships between Catholics and Evangelicals in the rural Southeast.

Lesko said it is clear that the ecumenical friendship “didn’t happen overnight” and that this is “the fruit of many years of work.”

Fr. Ruff agreed.

“We cannot be a Catholic Church in isolation,” he said. “Ever since the Second Vatican Council we understand that we’re all one Body of Christ, and we pray for the day that we’ll be one Church.”

Fr. Ruff said he expects a warm friendship to continue even after the new church has been built and the Catholics have moved out of Tiny Town Baptist.

“That’s who we are, here in little Todd County,” he said. ♦ crops.

Parishioners Ed and Dorothy Slack stepped forward and donated a plot of their land beside their home just north of Guthrie.

He said that he had always wanted to “leave the world a better place than when I got here.”

His wife, Dorothy Slack, said she had realized that the parish was not going to get the property they needed anywhere else, and that she and her husband felt called to donate the land.

“We just kind of felt that we should do this,” she said simply.

God’s will

St. Francis of Assisi Parish received its name for several reasons. One was after the humble saint himself. Another reason was for Pope Francis, whom the parishioners love.

A third reason was inspired by Fr. Ruff, whose first name is actually Francis, though he prefers to go by “Frank.”

Leobardo Lopez, a leader in the parish’s Hispanic community, said that “God is the one who gave us the name.”

“God is the one who says what needs to be done,” he said, expressing his sadness that the church burned down, but hope for a bright new future.

Deacon Rodriguez said that so far the construction plans are moving in “baby steps, but it’s working.”

“We have grown in faith,” he said. “We can bring the kingdom of God in this area and fulfill his will. We will open our hearts and our wills, and let his will be done.” ♦

That’s when the young men of the St. Joseph of Arimathea Society at OCHS step in.

“We believe that everyone deserves a respectful burial,” said Daniel Jacobs, one of the student members.

Members of the society – which is reserved to senior males – serve as pallbearers for the individuals in these sad situations.

The society is named for St. Joseph of Arimathea in the Bible, who provided his own tomb for the body of Jesus after the crucifixion.

OCHS’s society was inspired by the St. Joseph of Arimathea Society at St. Xavier High School in Louisville, where the students similarly act as pallbearers for the impoverished deceased.

Mason Robertson, another member, said that at the beginning of the school year in senior religion class, students are invited to volunteer for the society. The members rotate so that there are six pallbearers for each service, and so that every member has a chance to help.

“Usually pallbearers are family,” said Robertson. Since the students typically never met the individual before they passed away, “we’re more distant, but we still care for the deceased.”

Sometimes the society members are at school when they receive a last-minute notice that pallbearers are needed that day, and the students attend the service in their OCHS uniforms.

Other times the members hear the news several days in advance, and can plan to wear their suits and ties. But regardless of what they wear, the young pallbearers maintain an attitude of sympathy and respect.

“We get some very nice thank-you notes from families,” said Fr. Bradley.

Fr. Bradley said that the students wear small boutonnières when acting as pallbearers. At the burial, the students remove the boutonnières and place them on the casket.

Robertson said he doesn’t think the society will ever run out of members, due to the great honor it is to serve, and the opening for new seniors every fall.

“To bury the dead is a good way to practice the works of mercy,” said Fr. Bradley, though perhaps, “it’s one you don’t think about often.” ♦

Year of Mercy inspires MSJ women's retreat

Ursuline Sister Cheryl Clemons had a wonderful turnout for her women's retreat March 11-13, 2016, titled "The Tender Mercy of Our God: Jesus and Gospel Women" at the Mount Saint Joseph Conference and Retreat Center. Sister Cheryl related the stories of several women in the Gospels and how their stories intersect with the women of today. Jesus showed his mercy to those women just as Jesus continues to show mercy today.

Coins for Cooper

BY DIANE WILLIS, SPECIAL TO THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

When one of your own needs help, you're there for them.

That's how the religious education program at Immaculate Parish in Owensboro felt when they heard that two of their catechists, Jason and Kira Stallings, had to leave their ministry due to their unborn son (named Cooper Ray) being diagnosed with Porencephaly. The couple was told that they needed to rest for Cooper's sake.

Porencephaly is an extremely rare disorder of the central nervous system in which a cyst or cavity filled with cerebrospinal fluid develops in the brain. Porencephaly, as Cooper suffers from, is the result of damage from multiple pre-birth strokes. Although they are yet to be completely determined, symptoms could possibly include delayed growth and development, spastic hemiplegia (slight or incomplete paralysis), hypotonia (low muscle tone), seizures (often infantile spasms), and macrocephaly (large head) or microcephaly (small head).

Children with porencephaly may have poor or absent speech development, epilepsy, hydrocephalus (accumulation of fluid in the brain), spastic contractures (shrinkage or shortening of the muscles) and cognitive impairment.

Immaculate's religious education program began "Coins for Cooper" as their Lenten project.

They were hoping for $750 – approximately $10 from each student. But after four weeks and $923 collected, they knew that the final tally would be over $1000.

The final amount of $1165.81 was presented to the Stallings family at religious education on March 30. All classes were treated to a pizza party and the two winning classes: second grade with the most money ($216.88) and first grade with the most money per student ($19.30) also received an ice cream treat.

The students are aware of Cooper's diagnosis and so not only have been bringing money for his cause, but also praying for him and Kira and Jason.

Diane Willis serves as director of faith formation at Immaculate Parish, Owensboro. ♦

How to help

Diane Willis says she is amazed by the students' giving spirit: "We talk about the Works of Mercy, but seeing it in action is very rewarding." To learn how you might help the Stallings family, contact Diane Willis at (270) 683-0689.

Holy Spirit builds 'Undoer of Knots' grotto

Pope Francis, while studying in Germany in the 1980s, discovered the Marian devotion to Our Lady, Undoer of Knots which is depicted in a painting of our Blessed Mother from the early 1700s. The pilgrims from Holy Spirit Parish in Bowling Green learned more about the pope's devotion during their visit to Philadelphia in 2015. They saw the "knotted grotto" built at the Cathedral Basilica of SS. Peter and Paul in honor of the devotion, where people wrote prayers and struggles on ribbons to tie onto the grotto frame. The practice was to leave a ribbon, and then take a ribbon off and pray for that intention.

Meet the Deacon Candidates

Currently the Diocese of Owensboro has 16 men studying to become English-speaking permanent deacons. Through five years of prayer and intense study these men hope to one day serve the people of the diocese by assisting at Mass, administering sacraments, serving the community and much more. Recently the 16 deacon candidates and the wives of those who are married gathered for a study weekend at the Mount St. Joseph Conference and Retreat Center.

We'll be exploring more about the vocation to the permanent diaconate in our online news this summer! Stay up-to-date by visiting rcdok.org/news and registering for our free email newsletter at <http://bit.ly/1NxpMSS>.

Permanent diaconate

May 3 – Sister Vivian Bowles, OSU Mind Management

This session stresses self-management for growth and accomplishment. Once we have a clear positive self-image, we can strengthen our inner resources and mental attitudes. We will learn basic affirmations that instill self-acceptance, pleasant personalities, spiritual growth, handling and communication of emotions, healthier thinking, and motivation. These attributes and skills will further develop self-acceptance that will curtail negative mental games that we tend to play with ourselves and others.

June 7 – Sister Ann McGrew, OSU
The Choice to Say "Yes;" The Choice to Say "No"

"Indeed, the big decisions in life are hardly ever clear -- except for one. And that one is piercingly clear: life is a series of dilemmas, of options, of conundrums, of possibilities taken and not taken. Negotiating these moments well is the essence of the life well lived." (Quote by Sister Joan Chittister, OSB)

Blueprint for Life: Beatitudes

This presentation is based on the Gospel of Saint Matthew 5:3-10.

Container Collection for the Mandeville Diocese Set to Begin May 1, 2016

The Owensboro Diocese and the Mandeville Diocese are set to begin a collection of goods for a shipping container to provide needed items for education and healthcare for the children and needy adults in Jamaica. The collection will begin on May 1, 2016 and run through September 30, 2016. At the request of the Diocese of Owensboro, the Mandeville Jamaica Diocese sent a list of needed supplies for their Schools, Boys Home, healthcare providers and outreach work with the poor.

Parishes, Schools, Summer Vacation Bible Schools and other groups are asked to select an item or a collection of items and the number of each they can commit to for this project. They asked to report their selections, including the number of items, to Richard Murphy, the coordinator for the collection, by phone or email. He can be reached by phone at 270-683-1545, and by email at richard.murphy@pastoral.org. Selections made will be logged and tracked to make sure that all items named have a chance to be filled. By August 1 to September 30, 2016 all participating groups are asked to have the items collected and ready to ship to the collection point at the Big Independent Warehouse located on 1875 Old Calhoun Rd, in Owensboro, Kentucky. All items collected should be boxed, labeled as to the contents, and have a numerical count on the box of the items enclosed.

The list is below of items, the numbers requested and for what age or group. Parishes, Schools, and interested groups are encouraged to pick up to three choices and name the amounts of each they propose to supply. They are then requested to contact Richard Murphy on or before August 15, 2016 and let him know of their selections. If others have already filled an order, then it may be necessary for a group's second or third choices to be targeted.

Catholic Campaign for Human Development Local Grant Information

The Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD) is a national social justice program of the United States Catholic Bishops. Its mission is to address the root causes of poverty in America through promotion and support of community controlled, self-help organizations, and through transformative education of the non-poor. Each year in November, the Diocese of Owensboro, Kentucky participates in the national Catholic Campaign for Human Development collection. From that collection, a percentage of monies are retained to provide grant funding to local organizations which meet CCHD criteria. Catholic Charities administers and allocates the grant funding. To apply, please send a brief narrative of your organization, budgeting information, how your organization would meet the CCHD criteria of systemic change, what community organizations your group receives support from, and whether your organization's policy-making board has one-third low-income members (if your board does not contain one-third of its members who are low-income also include an explanation of why this is not so). Applications for grant funding must be received by May 20, 2016 so that grants can be awarded on or before June 20, 2016. The grant is a non-renewable and must be applied for each year. Three years is the total number of years any one group can receive this grant. Each year several grants are awarded averaging between $800-$1200 each. The grant application is a little shorter and a little more simplified to complete this year.

Criteria:

1. The applicant's project must be within the thirty-two counties which comprise the Roman Catholic Diocese of Owensboro. These counties include: Fulton, Hickman, Graves, Ballard, McCracken, Carlisle, Calloway, Marshall, Trigg, Lyon, Livingston, Caldwell, Christian, Hopkins, Muhlenburg, Todd, Logan, Simpson, Allen, Warren, Butler, Edmonson, Grayson, Ohio, Breckinridge, Hancock, Daviess, McLean, Henderson, Union, Webster, and Crittenden.
2. The applicant project's policy making board must be at least one-third low-income. If this is not the case, the applicant must explain why the board does not have setting low-income board members. (Low-income board members do not include those considered voluntarily poor such as clergy, religious sisters, students, VISTA volunteers, etc.)
3. The applicant project's efforts must seek to benefit a poverty group.
4. The applicant project must seek to create institutional or systemic change by changing the structures that keep people poor and powerless.
5. CCHD will consider favorably only those projects which demonstrate respect for the dignity of the human person. CCHD will not consider projects or organizations which promote or support abortion, euthanasia, the death penalty, or any other affront to human life and dignity.
6. The activity for which funding is requested must be consistent with the moral teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.
7. Projects should generate cooperation and solidarity among and within diverse groups in the interest of a more integrated and mutually understanding society.

8. Projects should document that as a result of CCHD funding there are possibilities of generating funds from other sources or of moving towards becoming self-supporting within the time lines established in the proposal.

For more information or to apply, contact Richard Murphy, director of the Office of Social Concerns for the Diocese of Owensboro, at (270) 683-1545 or richard.murphy@pastoral.org.

Una Palabra del Obispo Medley

'Amoris Laetitia – La Alegría del Amor'

Algo que vale la pena hacer, vale la pena hacerlo incluso si sale mal.

Piénsenlo. Si alguien agarra unas pinturas y va a explorar su creatividad, no tienen que crear una obra comparable con la Capilla Sixtina de Miguel Ángel para que valga la pena. Si alguien disfruta del canto, no tienen que vender más álbumes que Frank Sinatra o Elvis Presley para que tenga valor y que sea agradable. Si alguien puede rebotar una pelota de básquet no tienen que lograr el nivel de Michael Jordan para pasarla bien.

Esto podría ser mi resumen de la Exhortación Apostólica sobre la familia del Papa Francisco, Amoris Laetitia, la Alegría del Amor. El matrimonio y la familia tienen valor, incluso cuando se hacen mal. Ahora la palabra problemática es “mal”. Tal vez mejor debo usar “no perfectamente”. Si el matrimonio tiene valor, aún tiene valor cuando no se realiza perfectamente.

El documento del Papa Francisco sobre el matrimonio y la familia nos viene como una reconfirmación que los hombres, las mujeres, los niños, y la sociedad reciben un bien aun cuando cada matrimonio y familia no son perfectos según algún manual. Esto tiene mucho sentido: la mayoría de nosotros somos esposos, esposas, madres, padres, hermanas, hermanos y a muy pocos de nosotros nos han acusado de ser ‘perfectos’. El matrimonio y la vida familiar están desordenados y muchas veces marcados por la imperfección. Vamos al corazón del asunto: el matrimonio y la familia muchas veces son marcados por el pecado. Personas en las relaciones más íntimas de la vida y amor se lastiman, se decepcionan, se hieren uno al otro. ¡El Papa Francisco entiende eso! Habla por parte de la iglesia y más importante todavía habla por parte de Jesucristo. Él nos promete que hay gracia en la vida matrimonial que puede superar nuestros defectos.

Tal vez la Iglesia a veces ha puesto expectativas que no aceptan a lo ordinario. Todos sabemos de una tendencia en nuestra cultura de salir corriendo cuando todo no nos parece. En la relación matrimonial esto ha significado matrimonios fracasados y familias rotas cuando tal vez sólo se ocupaba alguna pequeña cirugía, como tragarse el orgullo, o conceder un poco de misericordia y de perdón.

Amoris Laetitia será la fuente de la enseñanza de la iglesia sobre el matrimonio por mucho tiempo venidero. Es muy apropiado porque el Papa Francisco saca su enseñanza de los Evangelios de Jesucristo. Él ha resumido de una forma espectacular las voces de los obispos y los expertos quienes participaron en los dos Sínodos de la familia que se llevaron a cabo en el 2014 y 2015. En estos encuentros las vidas de personas verdaderas, ordinarias e imperfectas fueron consideradas. El Papa Francisco ahora toma de estos discursos una llamada de encontrarse a las personas donde están y respetar sus conciencias. Recuerda a los pastores (sacerdotes) que la iglesia debe asistir a las personas en formar bien sus conciencias pero no reemplazarlas.

La Iglesia Católica siempre ha invertido mucho en el sacramento del matrimonio y en la vida familiar que fluye de este sacramento. El Papa Francisco reconoce sin embargo que a veces la Iglesia ha presentado un ideal de una forma tan directa, que los que no logran este ideal no se sienten bienvenidos ni animados a buscar ser entendidos ni apoyados en la iglesia. En un esfuerzo noble de defender el matrimonio, tal vez hemos sido demasiado rápidos en juzgar los fracasos de los demás. Él denuncia a los que usarían la ley moral como si estuvieran “tirando pedras a las vidas de la gente.” Seguramente es una imagen apta cuando recordamos el pasaje del Evangelio con la mujer encontrada en el adulterio, donde Jesús invita a los que no tengan pecado tirar la primera piedra.

El Papa Francisco, sin diluir para nada el ideal natural y sagrado del matrimonio, insiste que la iglesia responda con compasión, sensibilidad y misericordia a cualquier persona cuya vida no ha concurrido a estos ideales. Los pastores y la gente tienen que ver que todos se sientan bienvenidos, y que hay un lugar en la Mesa del Señor para todos los que quieren estar. Admite que aun en ocasiones nuestro lenguaje nos ha traicionado. “ya no es posible decir que todos los que se encuentran en alguna situación así llamada «irregular» viven en una situación de pecado mortal.” En otras palabras, podemos buscar formas de responder a la gente sin clasificarlos tan fácilmente.

Así es que absorbamos con emoción la enseñanza y el espíritu del Papa Francisco. Este no puede ser un documento del papa más publicado y guardado en una biblioteca. ¿Podemos nosotros los sacerdotes y buenos católicos acoger a los que se han sentido juzgados o condenados? ¿Podemos dar esperanza a los que tienen matrimonios que no han alcanzado sus propios ideales pero que se han mantenido fieles? ¿Puede la iglesia fortalecer otra vez la gracia dada en el matrimonio? Algo que vale la pena hacer, vale la pena hacerse mal. Pero no tenemos que quedarnos en el mal. No tenemos que ser Miguel Ángel, Frank Sinatra ni Michael Jordan para encontrar vida y el bien en todo lo que hacemos. Que la iglesia llame a todos los hombres y mujeres casados al ideal del que escribió el poeta Robert Browning:

¡Envejeced junto a mí!,
todavía nos aguarda lo mejor,
el final de la vida, el origen del principio:
nuestros tiempos están en Su mano,
y Él dice: “Todo lo he ordenado;
la juventud solo muestra una parte; confiad en Dios:
mirad el todo sin temor”.

El primer seminarista de Owensboro se gradúa del seminario de Indianápolis

Este Mayo, Corey Bruns se gradúa del Seminario Menor Simón Bruté en Indianápolis, Indiana. Él es un seminarista de la Diócesis de Owensboro y es el primer seminarista de la diócesis que se gradúa de este seminario menor.

Corey es un trillizo de sus papás Larry y Sue Bruns, quienes criaron a Cory y a sus hermanos trillizos Brody y Emily, y sus dos hijos mayores Adam y Nathan en la fe Católica. Corey recuerda que cuando estaba muy pequeño fingía celebrar la misa y usaba el mantel de la mesa para sus vestimentas.

En el quinto grado Corey empezó a rezar sobre el sacerdocio y en el onceavo grado aplicó y fue aceptado en el seminario menor por parte de la Diócesis de Owensboro.

Cuatro años después él ha tenido muchas experiencias maravillosas, tal como trabajar en el ministerio parroquial y servir la Misa en la Conferencia Nacional de la Juventud Católica en Indianápolis. Este otoño, Corey continuará su proceso de discernimiento en el Seminario y Escuela de Teología de San Meinrad en el sur de Indiana.

Por favor oren por Corey y todos los seminaristas de la Diócesis de Owensboro mientras tratan de discernir la voluntad de Dios. ♦

Las Parroquias de Santa Susana y de Santa María y San Santiago se juntan para convertirse en San Francisco de Asis

Un grupo de parroquianos anglos e hispanos se juntaron en el sitio futuro de la Parroquia de San Francisco de Asis el 28 de marzo del 2016.

El Jueves Santo, 24 de marzo, el Obispo Medley firmó formalmente un decreto que juntó a las Parroquias de Santa Susana y la Parroquia Santa María y Santo Santiago del Condado de Todd a ser una sola, con el nombre de la Parroquia de San Francisco de Asis.

Los miembros de las dos parroquias escogieron crear la nueva parroquia después de que un incendio destruyera la Parroquia de Santa María y San Santiago en febrero del 2015. Los parroquianos también tomaron esta decisión basada en la membresía de la parroquia que ha crecido más de la capacidad de los edificios de las iglesias y la colaboración ya existente entre las dos parroquias.

El Diácono Heriberto Rodríguez, coordinador de la vida parroquial de la Parroquia de San Francisco de Asis, mencionó que el número de parroquianos anglos había estado creciendo, pero el número de parroquianos hispanos era aún más alto todavía.

Ed Slack, quien donó el terreno para el nuevo sitio de la iglesia, habla con el Obispo Medley durante una visita al sitio el 28 de marzo del 2016.

Una parte de eso, dijo, es porque “estamos acogiendo muy bien a la gente nueva.”

La nueva parroquia fue nombrada San Francisco de Asis en honor al santo y también por el nombre del Papa Francisco. Fue inspirado por un sacerdote local de Glenmary, P. Frank (Francisco) Ruff, quien sirve a la comunidad católica allí.

La nueva parroquia eventualmente tendrá su lugar en una iglesia nueva en Guthrie, construida en terreno donado generosamente por parroquianos Ed y Dorothy Slack. La construcción todavía no ha empezado.

Leobardo López, un líder en la comunidad hispana de la parroquia, dijo que fue “muy triste” cuando la iglesia se quemó el año pasado, pero que está emocionado por tener la nueva iglesia.

“Dios nos ha dado su fuerza,” dijo Leobardo. “Dios es el que manda lo que hay que hacer.” ♦

First Owensboro seminarian to graduate from Bruté reflects on ‘blessed’ experience

BY COREY BRUNS, SPECIAL TO THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

I still remember when I got the phone call from the diocese Office of Vocations, letting me know that I was accepted as a seminarian and that I needed to apply to Marian University and Bishop Simon Bruté College Seminary in Indianapolis.

I had never heard of the school before and was a little worried about where I would be going. I was going into “unchartered” waters and would be, as Bishop Medley joked with us on his first visit to the seminary, “The Guinea Pigs.”

Bruté, as we refer to it, is in an old Carmelite Monastery in Indianapolis. The sisters had left the seminary an immense “Fortress of Prayer” in the Castle on Cold Spring Road – the building truly looks like a castle – when they moved out. Their prayerful spirit still seeps out from the stony walls and hallways of what is now Bishop Bruté.

Fed by the prayerful spirit of its former residents; the Carmelite Sisters who cared for the property, and now enriched by the nearly 40 men who study there each year, Bruté and Marian have become my home away from home.

A faith-filled family

I was born a triplet in Quincy, Illinois to my parents Larry and Sue Bruns.

My triplet siblings, Brody, Emily, and I have two older brothers: Adam and Nathan who are married with children of their own. My family moved to Nebraska when I was in second grade where we lived for a year before moving to Marion, Kentucky, which has been our home ever since.

Being a triplet has definitely been interesting. We were in the same classes until seventh grade and now we go to three completely different schools. My sister will be joining the FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students) Missionaries this

Sister Mary Matthias Ward returns to lead Retreat Center

After serving in elected community leadership, parish and campus ministry, directing a retreat center in New Mexico and serving the sisters in Maple Mount, Sister Mary Matthias Ward, OSU, is once again director of the Mount St. Joseph Conference and Retreat Center.

Sister Ward served as Center director previously in 1983, when Mount St. Joseph Academy closed and the sisters decided to convert the campus into a retreat center.

She replaces Sister Ann McGrew, OSU, as director, who served in the role since 2010. Sister McGrew is the new director of novices for the Ursuline community.

This year Sister Ward celebrates 62 years as an Ursuline Sister of Mount St. Joseph.

"I still believe people hunger and thirst for peace and time alone," said Sister Ward in a recent press release from the Mount. "I believe the Center can offer that. Maybe during this Year of Mercy people will feel that hunger and thirst more."

Summer Retreats for Women Religious...
Cultivating A Heart of Contentment
July 17-22, 2016
 Led by Father Jack Conley, CP
 Also Available: Directed Retreats led by Sister Helen O'Brien and Sister Mary Matthias Ward

The conference retreat offers a kind of "spirituality for tough times" in light of Pope Francis' invitation to ponder God's tremendous mercy. Reflecting on the insights of contemporary spiritual writers, we will attempt to respond to the disillusionment that pervades so much of our lives of faith now. Through a mixture of conferences, music, poetry, contemporary film segments and quiet ... we will ponder our gifts of abundance, our longing for the Holy, for mystery, for intimacy. Directed retreatants will meet each day with a spiritual guide and spend quiet time with God.

The retreats begin at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. The cost to attend is $450 or $275 for commuters. Please join us.

'Home away from home' ...

summer and my brother works in the tech department at Western Kentucky University.

We had very different interests growing up, but the one thing we shared has always been our faith. Well that, and when Mom would dress us up identically as kids...

My mom always encouraged my brother and me to consider a vocation to the priesthood when we were little. The three of us loved to play Mass and I have many fond memories of my orange-white checkered tablecloth-turned-chasuble!

While we lived in Nebraska my family would often make Holy Hours, as we filled the time that we used to spend visiting with my grandparents. Later after moving to Kentucky, we continued that practice of dedicating an hour or so a week in prayer before the Blessed Sacrament.

It was there in Adoration when I was in the fifth grade after the invitation of a priest that I really started to think and pray about the priesthood.

Later in the seventh grade I decided that I really felt called to discern a priestly vocation. As a junior in high school, I started the application process for seminary, was accepted and was the first of two to be sent to the new college seminary our diocese now uses.

Growing campus

Four years later, the four-hour trips from Marion to Indy are no longer as long as they used to be.

Bruté has grown immensely to accommodate the growing numbers of men, with the additions of a new dorm wing and dining room three years ago. Marian University, where I have gone to school, has and continues to grow as well, with new buildings popping up all over campus.

My class size hasn't really changed from high school with consistently 20 or so students on average in each class at Marian.

Most of the professors are very active in our seminary community, helping with formation conferences, attending events, and giving feedback on our performance to the formation staff. I have memories of many of them giving their cell number to us the night before a test so that we could call them with a list of questions we needed clarified.

Since the seminary is on Marian's campus, I have been able to take other classes that interest me, such as organ and voice lessons, music and history classes.

'Laboratory of love'

At the seminary I have had a ministry assignment each year, working with the poor in downtown Indy, and for the past two years working with the RCIA and adult ministries at St. Joan of Arc. Since Indy is a "Convention City" the seminarians get a lot of hands-on experience assisting at events such as the National Catholic Youth Conference, and serving Masses for visiting church dignitaries as well as visiting football teams.

We recently held a celebration at the seminary for donors as a way of thanking them for their continued support of our mission of forming men for the priesthood in the spirit of Bishop Bruté.

In his remarks at the end of the evening, Archbishop Tobin, the Bishop of Indianapolis, remarked how another bishop who sent his men to Bruté was visiting with him and telling him how much he appreciated the formation his men received there. He commented that he sent to other college seminaries but his favorite was Bruté, because the men there were so "normal."

Marian and Bruté have done an excellent job with the formation staff at Bruté in forming us into being well-rounded "normal" men of God.

Fr. Bob Robeson – the seminary rector – always calls the seminary a "laboratory of love." It's a place where men can come and be challenged and encouraged to become the best that God is calling them to be, by a faculty and staff who truly love them and have their best interests at heart.

I feel very blessed to have been able to spend the past four years in formation at Bishop Bruté and to be graduating with a degree from Marian University. Bishop Bruté has truly become one of the premier college seminaries of the Midwest; first and foremost because Archbishop Buechlein and Fr. Bob established it 11 years ago as primarily a House of Prayer.

I'm incredibly thankful to Bishop Medley, Fr. Jason McClure, Fr. Andy Garner, and Dr. Fred Litke as well as the good people of the Diocese of Owensboro for allowing me to live and grow here over the past four years.

I'm proud to be a Marian Knight and a Son of Bishop Bruté and am looking forward to continuing in discernment as I attend St. Meinrad Seminary and School of Theology in the fall.

Corey Bruns writes from Indianapolis, where he will graduate from Bishop Simon Bruté College Seminary in May. ♦

Cathedral Preschool builds new playground

Dee Dee Baur, first Cathedral Preschool director, and Larry Lyon, longtime advocate. Photos courtesy of Cathedral Preschool.

Thirty years ago Fr. Ed Bradley and Dee Dee Baur took a huge step in faith which led to the opening of Cathedral Preschool. Initially it was intended to encourage young families to become members of St. Stephen Cathedral but throughout the years the preschool continues to serve families of all faith traditions.

It began with a small staff teaching only 4-year-olds and has now expanded to include 3, 4, and 5-year olds with a dedicated staff of 11 and more than 100 students.

Larry Lyon was on staff at St. Stephen Cathedral those 30 years ago and worked there for 26 years before leaving. He did not “officially retire” because he remains very devoted in supporting the preschool in various ways. He has become invaluable when a need arises.

It became necessary to replace the playground equipment that was installed in 1987. A combination of various fundraising events, generous grants from The Michael E. Horn Family Foundation, The Catholic Foundation of Western Kentucky, donations and support from many St. Stephen parishioners and preschool families and friends made it possible to finance the playground and installation.

In January 2016 the work began and today the new playground is a beautiful sight to behold. The children enjoy the play area and it brings such joy to hear their laughter and watch them play.

On Monday, March 28, the preschool staff, students and their families and friends celebrated the official opening of the playground with a blessing and prayer lead by Fr. Jerry Riney, rector of St. Stephen Cathedral and Fr. Suneesh Mathew, associate pastor.

Dee Dee Baur and Larry Lyon were asked to perform the ribbon cutting after which they were shown the plaque naming the new playground, “The Larry Lyon and Dee Dee Baur Playground.” ♦

Nine-year-old wins state K of C free throw

On March 12 Evan Farley, son of Bruce Jr. and Tara Farley and grandson of Bruce and Patricia Farley (Holy Name Council 1320), all of Henderson, won first place in the state Knights of Columbus Free Throw Shooting Contest in the nine-year-old division. Evan’s competition began first by winning locally then continued winning the district and regional reaching the state competition at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Parish in Louisville. Evan hit 23 of 25 shots after a five-shot warm-up.

Bruce Farley Sr. writes: “This may also have been the best that day in the entire competition of age groups 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14 (both boys and girls) though it could not be confirmed. Evan is a lefty and besides basketball Evan also likes baseball and video games and attends Spottsville Elementary.” ♦

Indulgences and the Year of Mercy: Part 2 of 2

BY FR. KEN MIKULCIK, SPECIAL TO THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

Editor's Note: The following is the second half of a two-part series on indulgences, in light of the Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy and Pope Francis' emphasis on mercy and reconciliation. The first half ran in our April issue.

How are indulgences connected to the Year of Mercy?

Pope Francis states simply in his Bull of Indiction: "A Jubilee also entails the granting of indulgences." This is what we expect from any Jubilee year. Most especially, however, with a Year of Mercy, we expect the Church to extend this grace for the conversion of sinners. The Holy Doors at the six designated parishes of the diocese are for us doors of mercy as we seek conversion of heart and our Heavenly Father's embrace.

Pope Francis made the connection in this way in his Letter of September 1, 2015: "...I dispose that the Indulgence may be obtained in the Shrines in which the Door of Mercy is open and in the churches which traditionally are identified as Jubilee Churches. It is important that this moment be linked, first and foremost, to the Sacrament of Reconciliation and to the celebration of the Holy Eucharist with a reflection on mercy. It will be necessary to accompany these celebrations with the profession of faith and with prayer for me and for the intentions that I bear in my heart for the good of the Church and of the entire world."

For those who cannot enter a Holy Door, Pope Francis offers another path in the same letter:

"Living with faith and joyful hope this moment of trial, receiving communion or attending Holy Mass and community prayer, even through the various means of communication, will be for them the means of obtaining the Jubilee Indulgence."

Immediately following this he remembers especially those who are incarcerated: "They may obtain the Indulgence in the chapels of the prisons. May the gesture of directing their thought and prayer to the Father each time they cross the threshold of their cell signify for them their passage through the Holy Door, because the mercy of God is able to transform hearts, and is also able to transform bars into an experience of freedom."

The Letter emphasizes how the indulgence is connected to the spiritual and corporal works of mercy: "I have asked the Church in this Jubilee Year to rediscover the richness encompassed by the spiritual and corporal works of mercy. The experience of mercy, indeed, becomes visible in the witness of concrete signs as Jesus himself taught us. Each time that one of the faithful personally performs one or more of these actions, he or she shall surely obtain the Jubilee Indulgence. Hence the commitment to live by mercy so as to obtain the grace of complete and exhaustive forgiveness by the power of the love of the Father who excludes no one."

Is it true that you can obtain an indulgence for souls in purgatory?

Yes. The Holy Father put it this way in his Letter: "Furthermore, the Jubilee Indulgence can also be obtained for the deceased. We are bound to them by the witness of faith and charity that they have left us. Thus, as we remember them in the Eucharistic celebration, thus we can, in the great mystery of the Communion of Saints, pray for them, that the merciful Face of the Father free them of every remnant of fault and strongly embrace them in the unending beatitude."

Fr. Mikulcik serves as Defender of the Bond in the Diocese of Owensboro's tribunal, as well as pastor of St. Anthony Parish in Browns Valley. ♦

Dear Cursillistas: Cursillo is blooming and growing!

BY MARY HAGAN, SPECIAL TO THE WESTERN KENTUCKY CATHOLIC

We are having a Cursillo weekend for all those who have made a Cursillo – it’s called a Cursillo de Cursillo. It will be held at the Mount St. Joseph Retreat Center from Dec. 1-4, 2016. Have you checked out our Leader’s Manual and been to Leader’s School and Ultreta lately? Members of our weekend teams need to be going to both. Our Leader’s Manual tells us about Pre-Cursillo, our three-day Cursillo weekend, and our Post-Cursillo after the weekend for the rest of our lives. It talks about our Mass and the Sacrament of Reconciliation. This year we will have Fr. Tom Buckman, our spiritual advisor, giving a 10-minute talk on our pope’s encyclical at each Leader’s School and we are blessed to have him with us. He will be our spiritual advisor for both weekends. Our member numbers are growing at the School and Ultreyas. Come and check it out and renew the joy of Cursillo.

Mary Hagan is lay director of the Diocese of Owensboro’s Cursillo movement. ♦

A Message from the Bishop

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

The Extraordinary Jubilee Year of Mercy, proclaimed by Pope Francis, is a very special time for the Church. It is an opportunity to meet the real needs of people in our communities while experiencing the mercy of God in our own lives. The theme of this jubilee year is “Merciful like the Father.” We have received so much mercy, why should we not extend mercy to others?

Everything we do as a diocese in western Kentucky should always reflect the mercy of God. My hope is that this booklet will share with you the vision we have for the Diocese over the next three years as outlined through our strategic Pastoral Plan. We want to represent the Church as being “merciful, open and welcoming to all.” We also believe in fostering a sense of discipleship “among Catholics of all ages.” Finally, our Pastoral Plan outlines ways for us to provide resources demonstrating the “dignity of the human person and the importance of the family.”

The fiscal and spiritual responsibility of the people of our diocese is taken seriously. We realize that in order for true evangelization to take place, opportunities must be provided for ministries and offices to thrive and extend mercy to those they come in contact with daily. Our programs and ministries are a direct reflection of those in our Church who share their time and talent, ensuring the Church’s mission to be a light to the world.

It is with my deepest sincerity that I thank you for making the Catholic Church of western Kentucky a flourishing example of God’s mercy and love.

Yours in Christ,

Most Reverend William F. Medley

Diocese Response to Sexual Abuse

The Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People provides a comprehensive framework for addressing allegations of sexual abuse and for creating safe environments in parishes and schools, and it directs all sexual abuse policies and procedures in the Diocese of Owensboro. In 2013, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops audited our diocese and as was determined in each previous audit, our diocese was found to be fully compliant with all elements of the Charter.

Prevention/Education

1,372 employees and volunteers completed safe environment training during the past fiscal year. (7/1/2014- 6/30/2015)

Trainings are offered in an online format and are available daily at any time. Go to www.rcdok.org/safe.

Sexual Abuse Review Board

The Review Board reviews past and present cases and monitors the implementation of our sexual abuse policies.

Victim Assistance and Outreach

The victim assistance coordinator, Rita Heinz, meets and assists victims/survivors. She can be reached by calling 270.852.8328 or emailing rita.heinz@pastoral.org. The Diocese continues to offer counseling assistance and other support to victims/survivors.

Cooperation with Civil Authorities

Any report or suspicion of child abuse is reported immediately to civil authorities, and the Diocese cooperates fully with any investigation.

“As each one has received a special gift, employ it in serving one another as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. Whoever speaks, is to do so as one who is speaking the utterances of God; whoever serves is to do so as one who is serving by the strength which God supplies; so that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belongs the glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.”

Diocesan Finance Council, Roman Catholic Diocese of Owensboro

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying combined financial statements of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Owensboro (Catholic Pastoral Center and Affiliates) (Diocese) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the combined statements of financial position as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the related combined statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the combined financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these combined financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these combined financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the combined financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the combined financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the combined financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the combined financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the combined financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the combined financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Owensboro (Catholic Pastoral Center and Affiliates) as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Emphasis of Matter

As discussed in Note 21 to the financial statements, the 2014 financial statements have been restated to correct a misstatement. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Other Matter

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the combined financial statements as a whole. The combining statements of financial position and the combining statements of activities on pages 27-30 are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the combined financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the combined financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the combined financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the combined financial statements or to the combined financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the combined financial statements as a whole.

So let us absorb Pope Francis' teaching and spirit. This cannot be just another papal document published and relegated to collecting dust on a library shelf. Can we as pastors and good Catholics reach out to welcome home those who might have felt judged or even condemned? Can we bring hope to those whose marriages have not lived up to their own ideals but who have stayed the course? Can the Church invigorate again the grace imparted in matrimony?

Anything worth doing is worth doing poorly. But we don't have to settle for poorly. We don't have to be Michelangelo, Frank Sinatra, or Michael Jordan to find life and goodness in everything we do. May the Church call married men and women to the poetic ideal of which Robert Browning wrote:

"Grow old with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made:
Our times are in his hand
Who saith, A whole I planned,
Youth shows but half; trust God: see all, nor be afraid!"
